DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment and the response filed on 1/20/04 has been fully considered and entered into the application.

2. Claims 172-212 are currently being examined in this application.

Withdrawn Claim Rejections

3. In view of applicants arguments and amendments the objection to the abstract and 112, second paragraph rejections set forth in the previous office action have been withdrawn.

4. The obviousness-type double patenting rejections over US Patents 6,416,952 and 6,506,558 have been withdrawn in view of TDs filed on 12/10/03.

Maintained Claim Rejections

5. The obviousness type double patenting rejections over US patents 5,384,261 and 5,677,195 have been maintained for the reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

6. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

7. Claims 172-212 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No. 5,384,261. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the reference claims are drawn to a method of forming a plurality of peptide sequences on a surface of a single substrate, which would result in an array of polypeptides of the instant claims.

Art Unit: 1639

8. Claims 171-212 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-36 of U.S. Patent No. 5,677,195. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the reference claims are drawn to a method of forming oligonucleotide or peptides having a diverse sequences on a single substrate and the formed peptides on a surface according to the reference method would read on the instantly claimed substrate or an polypeptide array.

9. Applicant's arguments filed on 1/20/04, regarding obviousness-type double patenting over US Patents 5,384,261 and 5,677,195 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants have argued both the rejections together. Applicants argue that the cited claims of '95 are directed to methods of forming oligonucleotides or peptides having diverse sequences on a single substrate. In contrast, claims 172-212 are directed to a variety of substrates or supports with a surface comprising a plurality of peptides bound to the surface.

Applicant's arguments have been considered and are not persuasive, since the reference claims are drawn to a method of forming oligonucleotides or peptides having diverse sequences on a substrate, which would result in an array of polypeptides or substrate with a surface comprising a plurality of peptides. Contrary to applicant's arguments, the instant claims are not drawn to a variety of substrates or supports. The instant claims are drawn to 'a substrate with a surface comprising a plurality of peptides' (claim 172), and 'an array of more than 1,000 different polypeptides with known sequences bound to a surface of a substrate' (claims 185). Thus the reference method would result in the array of the instant claims. If applicants argue that the reference method would not result in the array of the instant claims, applicants are requested to provide evidence.

Art Unit: 1639

Applicants further argue that claim 189 and 207, which recite method steps. Applicants are requested to note that these claims are drawn to product-by-process claims. Claims 189, 207 are drawn to array of polypeptides prepared by the methods steps, however these claims are considered as drawn to product claims. And the arguments regarding the 'with/without the physical segregation' are not persuasive. And the rejections of record have been maintained.

Conclusion

10. No claims are allowed.

11. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
